President Makes Bid For Farmers' Vote

Asks GOP Congress To Carry Out His Policies

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—President Eisenhower said Friday night his administration has gone far toward building a "foundation of enduring prosperity" for American agriculture, and he asked for a Republican Congress to help him carry out his policies.

The President made an open bid for farm votes in the congressional elections in a speech prepared for a meeting at Butler Field House sponsored by the National Institute of Animal Agriculture.

Eisenhower jabbed at the Truman administration, saying that in its last two years in office "our farmers suffered a serious loss in buying power." And he said his own administration has taken "bold, progressive steps" to aid the farmer.

The Denver White House had described the address in advance as "nonpartisan" but the Republican National Committee bought broadcast time for it.

And Eisenhower, winding up his 20-minute prepared speech, brought in a plea for a GOP Congress. He said:

"Opportunity is ours if we continue to reject policies that lead to ever higher taxes, to regimentation, to dependence on a government far from our homes.

"Opportunity will be ours if we keep a government of teamwork—a government not of partisan rivalries, but of harmony and good will. To continue the advance along the course charted 21 months ago we need a Congress and an executive department both guided by leaders of the same political philosophy. They must be dedicated to the same broad program and objectives.

"For the next two years this means that our welfare requires a Republican led Congress."

For the most part, the speech was devoted to farm problems. But Eisenhower said at the outset that "I do not mean to imply that our farmers' interests are limited to farming. Far from it! Nor is a prosperous agriculture of interest to the farmer alone. The welfare of 165 million Americans is bound up with our nation's agriculture—just as every farmer is affected by all national and world affairs."

Californians Ask Action On Smog

LOS ANGELES (AP)—As an eye-stinging smog blanket hung like a gray-blue shroud over this city of sunshine for the ninth straight day Friday an aroused citizenry cried for action and politicians were quick to heed.

Latest developments in the war on Southern California's perennial plague:

1. Gov. Goodwin Knight cancelled all engagements and flew here "to determine why the air pollution laws of this state are not being enforced."

2. A 10-year-old Alhambra girl died, apparently from mucous asphyxiation, and her physician said smog could be a contributing factor.

3. Physicians reported an increase in colds and sore throats since the season's worst smog spell began.

4. State Highway patrolmen set up 61 roadblocks and ticketed cars and trucks whose exhausts were smoking excessively.

5. Mayor Clarence Winder of neighboring Pasadena urged mass prayer meetings in every church in the San Gabriel Valley to pray for God's deliverance from this terrible scourge.

6. The grand jury was interrogating Director Gordon Larson of the Los Angeles County Air Pollution Control District on smog control.

Larson told the grand jury's governmental Affairs Committee that automobile traffic caused 90 per cent of the early morning smog. He added that his office is enforcing all laws rigidly.

7. Several members of the Los Angeles City Council wore gas masks at their meeting Friday in protest against the smog fumes.

Strike Endangers British Food Supply

LONDON (AP)—Efforts to settle the strike of 24,000 dockers which has shut down London's busy port collapsed Friday night and the government warned that Britain's food supplies and export trade were endangered.

Coupled with a spreading busmen's walkout and an order for a mass strike by Thames River tugmen, the dock stoppage confronted Prime Minister Churchill's government with the most serious labor crisis since it came to power three years ago.

The stoppage in the London docks is having a serious effect on the country's export trade, is endangering food supplies and threatens to cause unemployment in other industries, the Ministry of Labor said in a statement after an emergency Cabinet meeting and urgent efforts by the government to negotiate a back-to-work agreement.

The ministry said "no progress can be made by negotiation at this stage."

The sprawling London docks handle one-third of Britain's export and import trade. Each week an estimated 46 million pounds ($128,800,000) worth pass through. A Ministry of Labor spokesman said 500 tons of bacon were deteriorating at the wharves and estimated 250,000 pounds ($700,000) worth of food already had rotted.

Richard Barrett, general secretary of the National Amalgamated Stevedores and Dockers, emerged from a conference with Labor Minister Sir Walter Monckton and said he had turned down proposals to call off the strike.

Simultaneously, 4,500 members of the Watermen, Lightermen, Tugmen and Barge-men's Union were instructed by their executive to walk out Sunday morning, halting the movement along the Thames of London's coal, gasoline and garbage.

The bus strike stripped London streets of half its rumbling double-decker buses and threw traffic into chaos.

Barrett told newsmen Monckton had proposed the dockers should revert to the pre-strike position of Oct. 4 and suggested setting up a court of inquiry into the dispute.

The union executive council "will not recommend any resumption of work" until the employers agree that overtime will be voluntary instead of compulsory," he said. The NASD has been banning overtime work in support of this claim.

Further clouding the picture was a strike committee threat to spread the Thames side walkout to other vital British ports.

Despite the stalemate and the deteriorating strike position, a Ministry of Labor spokesman said no decision on emergency measures would be made before the beginning of next week. Meanwhile, a government court of inquiry will look into causes of the dispute, he added.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Foreign Operations Administration has begun direct purchases of coal in areas classified as distressed.

The coal is to be sent broad, instead of cash, in some aid programs. Foreign aid director Harold E. Stassen said several weeks ago his organization had set a goal of 10 million tons of U. S. coal to be used in this way. However, until now the only purchases had been those made by foreign countries, which had been given credits by the United States. These countries bought on competitive bids, so that there was no direction of their purchases into areas suffering from unemployment.

Friday officials who asked not to be quoted by name said arrangements for immediate purchase of 100,000 tons of coal in Kentucky for shipment to Korea are the beginning of a direct purchase program expected to run in the next few weeks to 700,000 tons. Announcements of further individual purchases were predicted for the next few days.

Meanwhile the purchase of coal by foreign countries using U. S. credits will continue, officials said, and the amount of coal moved under both programs will be credited against the 10 million ton goal.

Actual purchase of the coal for the government will be handled by the defense department, informed sources said, with the General Services Administration perhaps taking over later.

CHICAGO (AP)—Republican Joseph T. Meek and Democratic Sen. Paul Douglas, opponents in the November senatorial election, Friday addressed a meeting of the Illinois League of Women Voters—and sparks flew.

"My opponent told you that I jumped on President Eisenhower's coattails after the Maine election," said Meek. "This is not true, because I had been a supporter of our President for a long time before that."

Meek then charged Douglas with "hitting below the belt in a fashion that is not worthy of you."

Douglas said, "He (Meek) is on record as opposing anything which makes economic sense for America in today's world."

The women peppered the candidates with questions on current issues. Some of the questions and answers:

U. S. Air Power Second To None, Adm. Radford

CHICAGO (AP)—Adm. Arthur Radford said Friday night that American air power is second to none and "we can make the unequivocal promise of fearsome retaliation" to aggression.

But the chairman of the strategy-making Joint Chiefs of Staff emphasized that plans are, not pinned to retaliation alone, saying that when the nation's military forces are built to desired strength they must be maintained in readiness, he added.

"Then if confronted by hostile aggression we will take what initiative we can, countering the aggressor wherever necessary, by whatever military means 'would most effectively accomplish the job. What we want is flexible military strategy. We would not let the enemy choose only those battle conditions for which he is particularly well suited."

Radford set forth his views in an address prepared for delivery to the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce.

The admiral said that until the first round-world flight was made 30 years ago "isolationism behind protective ocean barriers seemed both wise and prudent to most Americans."

But now science has produced weapons "which can easily span the oceans and the Arctic." Then he cautioned:

"Today, when we look upon a desk globe, we can see how close we are to the centers of Soviet power. The maps we once studied in school are outmoded in terms of time and space.

"No longer is North America an island protected by friendly ocean and polar barriers."

No Candidate Loses In Red Election In East Germany

BERLIN (AP)—The spectacle of a national election in which no candidate can lose engaged the Soviet zone of Germany Friday.

A single list of candidates picked by the Communists and their collaborators will be placed before 12 million eligible voters, on Sunday, to approve as their Volkstag.

There is no place on the ballot to indicate yes or no. A citizen simply takes his ballot and drops it in a box and that is a vote for the entire Parliament.

There is no way to vote no, and no way to deface the ballot without the probability of sudden arrest.

The East German government calls this a "democratic" election. Communist leaders say it qualifies as such because the candidates represent the ruling Socialist Unity (Sed) Communist party, the Christian Democrats, the National Democrats, the Liberal Democrats, the Farmers party, the Communist Youth, the Women's League and the trade unions.

There are also six candidates listed as having no party at all.

The only campaigning being done today was organizational work by the Communist machine to get out the vote. Every city block and every village has a "leader" just as the Nazis did—who is responsible for the actions of a certain number of people.

MAN STEALING FUNDS FOR POLIO STRICKEN WIFE ON PROBATION

CHICAGO (AP)—A former railway post office clerk who testified he stole funds intended for a polio-stricken wife Friday was placed on probation for two years.

He is Harold B. Ward, 42, of 725 E. Maple St., Adrian, Mich., a veteran of 18 years with the post office department. Ward, a Negro, told Federal Judge Win G. Knoch he took about $50 from him while working as a mail clerk on a Chicago-Detroit train last summer.

Ward pleaded guilty to a charge of embezzling from the mails. He testified money taken from letters addressed to the Sister Kenny Polio Foundation was spent for expenses of his wife, a polio victim, and one of the Wards' four children who was suffering from anemia.

Ward, an Army lieutenant in World War II, was wounded twice in combat.

STRATTON FOR GOVERNOR CLUB

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—A "Stratton for Governor Club" was chartered Friday by Secretary of State Charles Carpenter.

The club, incorporated at Beardstown by Hardin E. Hanks, John H. Glenn and G. G. Edwards, has as its purpose to "promote the election of William G. Stratton to public office."

33 Die As Hurricane Lashes Across East Coast

Free Roberts On Bond

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—James T. Roberts, Baltimore attorney accused of murder in connection with the kidnapping-slaving of his daughter, Judith Ann, 7, was ordered freed on $10,000 bond Friday by Circuit Judge Pat Cannon.

The judge declined to quash the indictment under which Roberts was jailed, however, and offered to try the case beginning tomorrow if Roberts desired.

George Brantigan, state attorney, said Roberts has not yet been arraigned on the murder charge and offered to arraign him immediately.

Roberts' attorney, Saul T. von Zamit, said he was not ready for the arraignment and trial.

Judith Ann was kidnapped from the home of her grandfather, Harry Rosenberg, the night of July 7. Her body was found several hours later beside Biscayne Bay. A doctor testified she died of suffocation and her body had been violated.

Judge Cannon said the proof and presumption were not great enough to hold Roberts in jail to await trial, but pointed out his ruling was not on the father's guilt or innocence.

"The court feels that Roberts is entitled to bond," he added.

His ruling came after detective Charles Spaul testified that fingerprints found on Rosenberg's car, abandoned near where the body was found, were not those of Roberts or any member of the immediate family.

Mrs. Dorothy Lawrence, attractive 25-year-old client of Roberts, said she accompanied him on a tour of night clubs and bars the night Judith Ann was slain, and declared Roberts was out of her sight no longer than 15 minutes while she went to the rest room.

They then were in a bar near Rosenberg's home in southwest Miami. She testified she and Roberts were sober after the round of night spots and he left her about 2 a.m.

Brantigan asked and obtained Judge Cannon's permission to appeal the ruling to the Florida Supreme Court.

Three die as cars collide near Quincey, Ill. (AP)—A Warsaw, Ill., school teacher and two young Quincey women were killed as two cars collided late Friday near the Rock Creek bridge on Route 96.

Four other persons were injured, two of them critically.

State police identified the dead as Mrs. Doris Devick of Warsaw, and Miss Carolyn Moore, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Moore, and Miss Bonnie Toumar, both of Quincey.

Drivers of the two cars, Wendell Spangler, school principal, Warsaw, and Joseph Bastien of Quincey, were reported to be in critical condition at a Quincey hospital.

Also hospitalized with injuries were Mrs. Dorothy Spangler, wife of Wendell Spangler, and Ray Devick, husband of Doris Devick.

The Warsaw group was returning home after attending a district meeting of the Illinois Education Assn. at Quincey.

The two young women who were killed were passengers in Bastien's car.

The collision occurred about two miles south of Ursa, Ill., and 10 miles north of Quincey.

ROCKFORD NUN SAILS FOR ROME

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Magdalene Marcell of Rockford, Ill., sailed Friday on the S.S. Constitution, en route to Rome to attend the beatification of a younger sister, a Franciscan nun who died in 1905 in China at the age of 26.

Beatification is a stage in the process of canonization following an elaborate process of inquiry covering many years.

The Rev. Mother Mary Malachi, provincial of the Franciscan Missionaries of Mary, also sailed for the ceremonies.

History's Most Erratic Storm Is Losing Fury

NEW YORK (AP)—Hurricane Hazel, one of the most dangerous erratic storms of the century, rocked New York with 100 miles per hour winds Friday night. But it was a dying gesture on the part of the big storm.

"The worst is over," was the weatherman's cheering word as the barometer began to rise in mid-evening.

Far to the west of the city, the hurricane spent its waning strength against the immovable barrier of Pennsylvania's mountains. Then it died and its force was absorbed in part by a new storm center in southwestern New York.

Hazel's death toll stood at 33 in continental United States. It swept into the Carolinas from sea early today, battering its way into the Northeastern states after grazing Washington with unsurpassed fury.

Ashore and at sea millions cruised before its awesome might. Ships frantically changed course. Airplanes fled like game birds before a forest fire. Men pitted their puny strength in a frantic battle to blunt its destructiveness.

The storm gathered the momentum of an express train at times. Behind it, thousands were left homeless.

Even in death, the hurricane was wickedly menacing as gales and dangerous tidal swells lingered on throughout the night.

Great waves lashed the Atlantic shoreline of Long Island. In New York harbor five persons narrowly escaped death as they scrambled away from a wave that washed over a Staten Island ferry.

It was the third hurricane to hit the Northeast in six weeks.

Hazel weather experts said held its overall power longer than most hurricanes, because it built up great energy during its long, leisurely passage across the sea.

When it roared past New York, its tremendous winds had fallen off sharply from the 130 mile per hour peak that ravaged the Carolinas. Its range slackened far below the nearly five inches that poured on Winston-Salem in six hours.

The storm's greatest strength was felt here at 7:30 p.m. when registering meters clocked 100 mile per hour gusts—the highest reading the meters are capable of.

Twenty-five minutes later, the winds diminished to about 55 miles per hour and the window-rattling rain subsided as the fringe of the spent hurricane moved on.

Chief Meteorologist Ernest J. Chrastie, marveling at the unbridled savagery of the great storm, said it was practically galloping northward with a forward speed of about 50 miles an hour.

Behind it lay the stricken island of Haiti, where the storm struck Tuesday, razing whole towns and leaving a death toll estimated about 100.

Behind it also lay the battered debris-choked Carolina coast where the hurricane early Friday battered from sea with great force into the continental U. S.

The death toll left in the wake of Hazel: North Carolina 3, Virginia 6, Pennsylvania 3, Delaware 4, Maryland 6, Washington, D.C. 2, New Jersey 2, New York 4.

Civil Defense forces, volunteer aides, policemen and firemen stood alert through a night fraught with the storm's omens of disaster.

New York City was swept by gusts of "more than 100 miles an hour shortly before 8 p.m."

Earlier, as the storm swept past Washington and Baltimore, Washington National Airport registered

Alone On 35-Foot Raft, Willis Sails From Peru To Samoa

PAGO PAGO, American Samoa (AP)—William Willis—one man against the sea—reached his goal of Samoa Friday after 115 days on a 35-foot raft during which his water and stove gave out and he lived on raw fish.

The 61-year-old New Yorker, weathered by the long battle against the elements on a drifting voyage from Peru, was healthy and leaped briskly to the dock when his raft was towed in early Friday.

To 500 cheering Samoans and Americans who met him at the dock, the mariner declared:

"The trip at sea was fantastic and it was also a nightmare and yet it was just a dream which changed from day to day."

"I have had some pleasant and unpleasant experiences. I had to live on sea water, for two months ago my water cans rusted out and when I checked them there was no water and my stove also went bad."

And so he lived on raw fish—mainly dolphins which he said were easy to catch—and the sur-

Two Gunmen Flee With $27,700 From Homer Bank

HOMER, Ill. (AP)—Two fast-working gunmen stuck up the First National Bank of Homer Friday and fled in a bright red convertible with more than $30,000.

The gunmen forced Kent Catlett, the president, two other employees, and a customer who entered during the robbery, to lie on the floor while they scooped up the money in the cages.

Then the robbers forced Catlett and the others into the vault but fled without locking it.

"I saw them leave and followed them out and got their license number," Catlett said.

The license number also was obtained by Leslie Krugh, a resident of Homer. He furnished Illinois State Police with a description.

Catlett declined to estimate the amount of the loss, but reported it as $27,700.

Ten state police cars and a search plane combed the area in a search for the robbers.

Krugh said the men were about 30 years old, both about 5 feet 6 and wearing brown jackets.

The robbers escaped in a red Mercury convertible.

U.S. Entries Win Two Top Honors At Dairy Show

CHICAGO (AP)—United States entries won two of the top three honors Friday in final judging at the International Dairy Show.

A Canadian entry, Leitchcroft Jewel 2nd, owned by Stansell Bros., Aylmer, Ont., was named grand champion female Ayrshire.

However, Jake Vogel of Monticello, Wis., won the grand champion female Brown Swiss event with V. B. Tex-Jane Paul and Master Fawn, Rhode Island.

Best of three females—Curtis Candy Co., Cary, Ill.

Cows in milk—Leitchcroft Jewel and Stansell Bros., Aylmer, Ont.

Get of sire—Cowgrange Lucifer, Strathglass Farm, Port Chester, N. Y.

FLIGHT OF THE FUTURE

The ancient dream of unlimited flight is rapidly nearing reality. A nuclear-powered airplane—which can fly for great lengths of time without needing any refueling—may be built with five or 10 years.

This is the gist of a news report which recently came from The Wall Street Journal. The Journal states, as a fact, that designers of nuclear planes have licked their most difficult problem. They are ready to start construction, it says, as soon as they get the Go-sign.

The problem which had to be solved was one of excessive weight. An airplane's atomic reactor will have to be properly guarded or its rays would destroy the crew. And it long was considered a fact that this could only be done with enormously heavy shielding.

Less than 18 months ago, the head of a leading aircraft firm cancelled the company's research work, and said that a nuclear plane would hardly get off the ground. He summed up the general opinion when he saw it as just "a big klunker."

Within the past year, however, scientists-engineers have quietly worked out reactor designs which they're sure will provide the answers. We now can build A-planes, they say, which are lighter in weight than our larger bombers.

Although deep official secrecy surrounds every phase of the project, preliminary work on an airplane reactor already has been begun, it is said. The green light for actual building attempts still hasn't been announced. But factions within the Pentagon are said to be urging action, and the job may be tackled at any time.

As to when such a plane could be flown, there seems to be some disagreement. Some engineers who are skeptical say not before 15 years. Others hotly dispute this and claim, if we started now, we could do it within only five years.

The argument made by the second group is that every atomic advance to date came sooner than most predictions. Or to use the words of the Journal: "The optimists have usually been right."

It is hoped they are right again. Long-range nuclear aircraft, which could stay in the air for days, would give us a major advantage in a possible future war. Then, of course, there's the brighter side—for, after successful war planes are built, we can start producing commercial planes.

And once we've done that, who knows? If reactors are lightened still more, perhaps we can go even further and use them in land vehicles. Trains, buses and freight trucks may some day run thousands of miles on tiny marbles of fuel.

Today it sounds quite fantastic, even to most of the experts. But as recent as 15 years ago, so did the awesome hydrogen bomb.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — Any mother who has survived the tense ordeal of preparing her moppet for a grammar school pageant might regard Mrs. Alice Viola Clements with awe.

For Mrs. Clements, the show world's most durable foster mother, has auditioned some 300,000 talented and not so talented children in a quarter of a century.

More than 12,000 kids have appeared on "Auntie Alice's" famous "Children's Hour" Sunday program, which recently celebrated its silver anniversary, has been a springboard for many now famous entertainers.

"So far as we've been able to find," said Mrs. Clements, "it's the oldest continuous show in radio. It has gone on for some 1,300 consecutive weeks."

It is now only a part-time task for busy, warm-hearted Mrs. Clements, who was once a Broadway dancer herself. Five years ago, after the death of her husband, she took over the operation of his Philadelphia advertising agency. Three days a week she commutes here, where she holds auditions, and writes, directs and produces her show.

She loves to work with children, handles them easily with a firm knowing kindness. "I had twins, but lost them as babies," she said, quietly. "Since then, I've—well, I've learned to be fond of other people's children."

Each year she contributes to the education of a number of talented children whose parents can't afford to give them the training they need.

"I've always been interested in show business," she said. "I was the youngest of seven children in a Pennsylvania Dutch family. My father had paid $400 for a piano, and none of the older children cared to play it."

"When I came along, I had to. My thrifty father simply wasn't going to let that piano go to waste. I gave my first concert debut at 8, and I wore panties made of flour sacks with the name of the company printed on them."

"As I sat down to the piano, everybody in the audience started laughing. In flipping back my starched dress, I had given a free ad to the flour company."

Each night now when Mrs. Clements looks at a television her heart is warmed by the sight of at least 6 to 8 performers who got their start on her program.

"Not all are stars," she said, "but they are making a living."

ates of her children's hour are Ezra Stone, Robert Q. Lewis, Arnold Stang, Joan Roberts, Eileen Barton and Roberta Peters.

What has she learned from 25 years of working with children? "Well, the most important thing is to treat them as adults," she said. "Children respond to reason at least as well as grownups—and they're more obedient."

"The parents often are more of a problem than the children. They never seem to be satisfied if a child has one talent. They want to push the child into everything or claim he can do anything."

One father offered Mrs. Clements a new car if she'd put his child on her show. A jeweler offered her an expensive watch on the same basis.

"I had to turn both them down," she laughed. "The children get on the show only by their own talents. We don't audition their parents' pocketbooks."

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — This country pumped 2½ billion dollars into Indochina to help the French save it from communism. Sen. Mike Mansfield, Montana Democrat, says it's beginning to look like money down the drain.

Mansfield, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, went to Indochina last year. He has just returned from a second visit. Both times he reported findings.

Last year he said, and so did the Eisenhower administration, that the French, with the help of some Indochinese and American military equipment, could smash the Communist-led Vietnamese who had fought the French seven years.

The French and those Indochinese who fought with them against the Vietnamese outnumbered the latter, by Mansfield's estimates, 5 to 3 in manpower and 10 to 1 in armaments, the latter largely American.

But it was the French, not the Vietnamese who were smashed. The humbled French at Geneva last summer agreed to let the Vietnamese have half of Viet Nam, the largest of Indochina's three states. The other two are Laos and Cambodia.

The French are still in southern Viet Nam. But with the Vietnamese in the northern half, and the Vietnamese in the southern half torn by factional disputes and corruption, all Viet Nam looks shaky to Mansfield.

So does Laos, where he reports dissension and Communist infiltration. To Mansfield the only bright spot is Cambodia, where the French have given the people real independence.

The French held Indochina as a colony for almost 100 years, and they did not prepare the Vietnamese for independence by training them as administrators or soldiers who could run and protect the country if and when it got independence.

Ho Chi Minh, leader of the Vietnamese, cloaked his communism under nationalism, promising the Vietnamese freedom from the French. The French still didn't realize that their day in Indochina was over.

The result: Millions of Vietnamese, fed up with French colonialism, gave their sympathy or active support to the Vietnamese. So the French fought without united Vietnamese backing.

The only way in which the French could have won their way with the Vietnamese, in Mansfield's view, was by meeting two conditions which he considered essential:

1. They had to give the Vietnamese full independence to offset the pull by the Vietnamese who promised freedom.

2. There had to be developed among the non-Communist Vietnamese a capacity to submerge their factional, personal and sectarian interests in the larger interests of their country.

What then was the cause of failure in Indochina? Mansfield, the best informed man in the Senate on that country, says:

"If there was one overriding cause of the failure, it is to be found in the distorted emphasis given to the capacity of military measures alone to bring about an end to the Communist advance in Indochina."

What was lacking in the situation was not military power, but a sound political structure for this power which could only have been built by fulfilling the two conditions previously discussed: independence and an end to factional disputes in Viet Nam.

"So far as we've been able to find," said Mrs. Clements, "it's the oldest continuous show in radio. It has gone on for some 1,300 consecutive weeks."

It is now only a part-time task for busy, warm-hearted Mrs. Clements, who was once a Broadway dancer herself. DR. JORDAN ANSWERS

A Direct 'Yes' or 'No' Answer Is Often Impossible in Dealing With Human Ailments

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

Today I am given a good scolding. Q. You and other doctors make me tired. Why can't you give a straightforward "yes" or "no" answer to the questions you are asked?

A. You pretend to help people in your column but you don't tell them what medicine to take or what to do to get well but just advise them to go see their doctors. It seems to me you are just trying to get the doctors to make more money. J.L.

A—All right, all right. First, as to the "yes" or "no" answer. The reason it is usually so difficult to make a flat statement in reply to a medical question is that two people who appear to have the same disorder often do not get along the same way even when they receive the same treatment. Would you, for example, want me to say that all those who suffer a heart attack will die suddenly? If I did it would not be true because a great many recover and live normal lives. It is for reasons like this that a direct yes or no answer is so often impossible when dealing with human ailments.

Now to the question on giving treatments. Again two people with the same disease will not respond the same way to the same drugs; some will be sensitive to one drug and not another and the dosage or amount will vary from person to person. Probably the most dangerous thing I could do would be to recommend the same treatment to all readers of this column who suffered from what appeared to them to be identical symptoms.

Finally, I am not trying to make the doctors rich. Most of them have enough or too much to do anyway. But surely a person who is ill stands a better chance of getting well from the personal attention of a competent physician than from any recommendations for treatment published in some kind of wholesale manner.

Q. Can anyone die of a broken heart? I have had a terrible shock and disappointment and feel terribly hurt.

A—There is no physical disorder which doctors recognize as a broken heart coming from shock and disappointment. It is true that emotional shocks can bring about some bodily changes, however, and deep hurt and disappointment can be one of these. I should say, however, that death from a "broken heart" is not in the cards.

Q. Can you give me information on the disease called "toricollis"?

A—This is the medical name for very neck, meaning that the neck is somewhat twisted and the head held on one side. The cause of most varieties is rather obscure but often there seems to be a strong emotional or nervous element. In the more difficult cases a highly technical operation has sometimes proved successful where other measures have failed.

Q. It is possible to get ptomaine poisoning from eggs?

A—The word "ptomaine" has gone out of use but it is possible to get food poisoning from eggs if they have been contaminated with germs. This is rather unusual and poisoning from eggs is one of the more uncommon forms of food poisoning.

Mix-Up in Pipe Room Delays Atomic Sub's Sea Trials

BY DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — An incredible mistake in the pipe-stock room of the Electric Boat Company in Groton, Conn., could delay the first trials of America's revolutionary atomic submarine, the Nautilus, by six months.

Correcting the results of the mistake involves an extremely complicated inspection and rebuilding job which will add materially to the cost of the sub, previously revealed to be $35,000,000.

The first Navy announcement of the trouble said that a steam pipe had exploded during a pressure test. Then it was explained that welded steel pipe had been accidentally installed in an undetermined portion of the system in place of seamless pipe, which is much stronger.

Here's what happened: The seamless pipe for the Nautilus, one and one-half inches in outside diameter, was purchased from various sources. And each quantity was rigidly inspected by the Navy before being accepted—but at the place where it was bought.

IT WAS THEN DELIVERED to the Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics Corp. at Groton where the fatal error was made. The special Nautilus pipe was dumped in the storage bin or area where all incoming pipe is placed.

And when it came time to install the steam system in the new A-sub workers drew what they assumed to be the right seamless pipe from that pile. Instead they took out an undetermined quantity of ordinary welded pipe. Both kinds look exactly alike.

The mistake was not discovered until Sept. 20 when routine pressure tests conducted on the steam system resulted in an explosion of the weaker welded pipe.

After a quick investigation of the trouble the Navy announced that there was no evidence of sabotage.

Now the Electric Boat firm says that in connection with the error it has fired its pipe shop foreman, Herman F. Baier, who has been with the company 42 years.

The steam system which was fouled up by the error is part of what is called the secondary system. It's not part of the primary nuclear power plant, which is a separately contained unit.

THE SECONDARY SYSTEM handles the steam which has been created by the heat transferred from the atomic pile unit. This means that the mistake would not have involved the escape of any radioactive materials if it hadn't been discovered until after the first surface tests were started.

If the error had resulted in the sinking of the Nautilus it would have been a major disaster. Not only would the valuable sub have been lost but the low-grade atomic explosion which could have resulted would have created a mass of dangerously radioactive water wherever the accident took place.

The present task involves putting testing to determine the exact extent of the trouble. The Navy claims that it's at least a three-month delay. Reports from other sources indicate it could be twice that long.

BECAUSE OF THE limited area inside a sub all of the piping is jammed into a minimum amount of space. This could mean that much more than the steam lines has to be ripped out.

Because the seamless pipe looks exactly like the welded pipe, a special method of inspection has to be devised to determine just how extensive the repair job will be. Several weeks after the discovery of the mistake the Navy was still unable to say exactly how many feet of piping was involved.

In spite of the delay and extra expense caused by the error, the Navy insists that it will not effect the eventual seaworthiness of the craft.

An Electric Boat Company spokesman says that it has reorganized its method of handling pipe.

American Menu

Well-Seasoned Skillet Is Secret of French Omelet

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Now is the time to enjoy more eggs in family menus. They are low in price, very good in quality and one of the best sources of top-grade protein.

For Sunday breakfast, why don't you surprise the family with broiled eggs with buttered bread crumbs?

Heat just enough fat to grease a shallow skillet or flame-proof baking dish. When fat is just hot enough to sizzle a drop of water, break eggs and slip into skillet—from a sauce dish if preferred. Cook on top of the range just until edges turn white, about 1 minute. Place skillet in heated broiler and broil eggs at moderate temperature to desired doneness 2 to 4 minutes.

Variation: (1) Pour 1 teaspoon of cream per egg into skillet when edges are white and before placing in broiler. (2) Sprinkle over eggs 1 teaspoon grated cheese or buttered crumbs before placing in broiler.

A French omelet makes a perfect breakfast dish, too. It's also good for any other meal.

French Omelet (2 servings): A well-seasoned skillet is essential to good results.

Three eggs, 3 tablespoons water or milk, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon pepper, scant 1 tablespoon fat.

Mix eggs, water, salt and pepper with fork. Heat fat in skillet (approximately 8 inches). Just hot enough to sizzle a drop of water. Pour in egg mixture. It should set at edges at once. Reduce heat.

As the mixture at the edges thickens, draw these portions with the fork toward the center so that the uncooked portions flow to the bottom. Tilt skillet as it is necessary to hasten flow of uncooked eggs. Shake skillet to keep omelet sliding freely.

Keep mixture as level as possible. When eggs are set and surface is still moist, increase heat to brown bottom quickly. Carefully loosen edge. Fold in half or roll cooking time about 5 minutes.

SUNDAY DINNER: Fruit cup, roast chicken, celery stuffing, giblet gravy, whipped potatoes with cheese topping, canned tiny peas with mushrooms and small white onions, soft rolls, butter or margarine, celery and olives, meringues filled with ice cream, chocolate sauce, coffee, tea milk.

Great-Grandfather Ponders Divorce—Writer Says NO

Is a man ever too old to let some woman make a fool of him?

Here's a letter from a man old enough to be a great-grandfather who says he has a good wife, who through the years has always worked to help him earn a living, and is still working.

He says he loves him, but he has decided that he is in love with a twice-married widow who lives down the street and has had a chance to make herself fascinating while his wife goes to work.

But now the wife has found out about the widow and is keeping a sharp eye on her husband. He wonders if he shouldn't divide up his possessions with his wife for a divorce and marry the widow.

DOES SHE LOVE YOU?

My advice won't set well with this no longer young Romeo, but here it is, anyhow.

You are getting to an age when whether or not you love your wife isn't nearly so important as whether or not she loves you.

Women these days are outliving men, and in the years to come you are much more likely to need the loving care of the wife, who has stood by you through the years, than the ego build-up of having some other woman tell you how wonderful you are.

Get sick, and the wife who loves you will stand by you through thick and thin.

But get sick and see just how long your charming widow finds you indispensable to her happiness.

If you're smart at all you'll do your best to convince your wife that you need her and you'll forget about the widow down the street.

For love your wife you may not—but need her you almost certainly will.

Interpreting The News

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

By taking such a touchy attitude toward the mere transmission of a Red Chinese complaint by the United Nations, the United States lays itself open, especially in Asiatic minds, to suspicion of a guilty conscience.

In the last four years the Chinese Reds have addressed 33 communications to U. N. members through the Secretary General's office, and they have been transmitted, establishing the practice as regular procedure. In 1950 the United States even permitted a charge of aggression against herself to go on the agenda at Russian request and agreed that General Wu should appear to present the Red case.

Now Red China is charging the United States with aggression again in connection with Formosa. Chief Delegate Lodge refused to accept transmission of the note and charged Secretary General Hammarskjold acted improperly in distributing it to the delegations after the United States had requested that it not be done.

No explanation for this sudden change of face has been given, nor is it known publicly whether the action originated in the American delegation in New York or with the State Department in Washington.

Delegates from other nations, however, when asked what they thought motivated the American action, just shrugged it off as unexplainable. Some referred to it as verging on childishness. Others privately attributed it to lack of diplomatic training among some of the State Department people both in New York and Washington.

It was pointed out that even if Hammarskjold had heeded the American request not to distribute the note, all the Chinese would have needed was get the Russians to ask for transmission, which is automatic upon member requests.

As for the note itself, it is sufficiently far-fetched to defeat its own propaganda purposes. It was primarily an extension of the 1950 charges, accused the United States of designing "new military adventures" from Formosa and attacked the new Southeast Asia defense pact as part of such an intent.

Its timing was extremely poor, too, since it came simultaneously with news that the United States was warning Chiang Kai-shek on Formosa against acts which might produce a war.

Morgan People At Episcopal Diocese Meet In Sangamon

The annual meeting of the synod of the Episcopal diocese of Springfield was held at Christ church, Springfield, on Tuesday and Wednesday.

At noon on Tuesday the rector of Trinity church, Jacksonville, the Rev. R. M. Harris, attended a luncheon for clergy, followed by a clergy conference. Mrs. Harris was guest at a luncheon for clergy wives at the newly built Christ church rectory. Mrs. William Jacobs, wife of the rector, was hostess.

On Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Reid of this city attended the banquet. The speaker was Bishop Burrill of Chicago.

Delegates from Jacksonville attending the synod meetings on Wednesday were Walter Bellatti, senior warden of Trinity church, M. O. Matthews, Dr. Thomas Auer, and the rector, the Rev. R. M. Harris, who was re-appointed Rural Dean of the Jacksonville Deanery. Walter Bellatti continues as a member of the Bishop and Council.

The Woman's Auxiliary convened on Wednesday. Delegates from Jacksonville were Mrs. John Phillips, Mrs. Reginald Reid, Mrs. Nelle Self Wandell, and Mrs. R. M. Harris.

Mrs. Wandell was elected the United Thank Offering treasurer for the diocese for the coming year. Mrs. Reginald Reid was appointed a member of the Bishop and Council for a two-year period. As United Thank Offering custodian, Mrs. Nelle Wandell is one of the five delegates to the Triennial, to be held in Hawaii in 1955. Mrs. Reginald Reid was elected as an alternate.

In the afternoon, the speaker was Mrs. Kathryn Bryan Nelson, for 43 years a missionary in Haiti, who spoke eloquently of the work of the Episcopal church in Haiti.

Barges Hit Beardstown Bridge; Traffic Halted

BEARDSTOWN, Ill. — The bridge spanning the Illinois River from Beardstown to Schuyler county was put out of commission early Friday morning when barges loaded with oil, being pushed upstream by the Steamer Marilyn M., accidentally tore into the structure.

The crash occurred at 3:25 o'clock Friday morning. The noise from the impact could be heard all over the city of Beardstown.

The Marilyn M., owned by the B. & M. Towing company of Houston, Texas, pushing the heavily loaded barges, first smashed into the projecting piling, tearing out about 100 feet. It then struck the foundation which supports the draw span, moving it off center about six feet.

George A. Buck, chairman of the city bridge committee; Roy Lossdon, Beardstown contractor and William Imboden of Jacksonville, superintendent of the Illinois Steel Bridge company made a survey of the damage Friday morning. They reported that damage was extensive and said it would probably be a month before the bridge was back in service. The investigation revealed that the draw span and gear mechanism was not badly damaged but that the pier was tilted toward the city about 45 feet.

The Beardstown bridge has been hit by barges several times but the accident Friday morning was the worst since an L.S.T. struck the bridge about 10 years ago, resulting in serious damage. The water was very high when the L.S.T. hit the bridge while the river was low Friday morning when the Marilyn M. crashed into the bridge.

All traffic over the damaged bridge was halted on both Routes 67 and 100, and traffic detoured over the bridges at Meredosia and Havana.

A Little Bit of Heaven

Look into her eyes. I see a little bit of Heaven there.
 Look into her eyes. I see no anguish, no worry, no fear of what tomorrow will bring.
 I see faith, pure and shining.
 Look into her eyes. I see the peace our world longs for. I see joy and happiness.
 I see God's hand upon her.
 Look into her eyes. I see love and trust and hope. I see a child of God.
 O little child, I look into those eyes, and I hear our Lord say: "Unless you become as little children you shall not enter into the Kingdom of God."
 Let us go to Church this Sunday. Let us pray for child-like faith. Let us bring a little bit of Heaven to our world.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

BUILT-IN ALARM

SYRE, Pa.—Tom Kenrick, brought secretary of Sayre, didn't realize automobiles come equipped with fire alarms until his garage went up in flames.

Most of the garage was saved when heat melted wires in the horn, causing it to blast loudly.

The noise brought the fire company and saved Kenrick several hundred dollars.

HOT POTATO

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa (AP)—You probably think potatoes and roses have little to do with each other. But at the J. F. Wilcox & Sons greenhouse here the spuds are a big help in raising roses.

Every time new roses are planted at the nursery, the soil is sterilized. This is done by "cooking" the soil with steam pipes. The Wilcoxes bury a potato in each square foot of soil, and when the potatoes are "baked," the soil has been sterilized.

Celebrate I. C. Homecoming For 125th Anniversary

MEMORIAL PHYSICAL EDUCATION BUILDING
CITY OF JACKSONVILLE
JACKSONVILLE, ILLINOIS

DECLARATION

WHEREAS the City of Jacksonville is noted for its colleges and other education institutions, and

WHEREAS, one of them, Illinois College, having been founded in 1829, is now celebrating its 125th Anniversary, and

WHEREAS this College is the first in Illinois to graduate a class, and

WHEREAS Illinois College represents the faith in higher education held by the citizens of Jacksonville, as well as by the early settlers, and

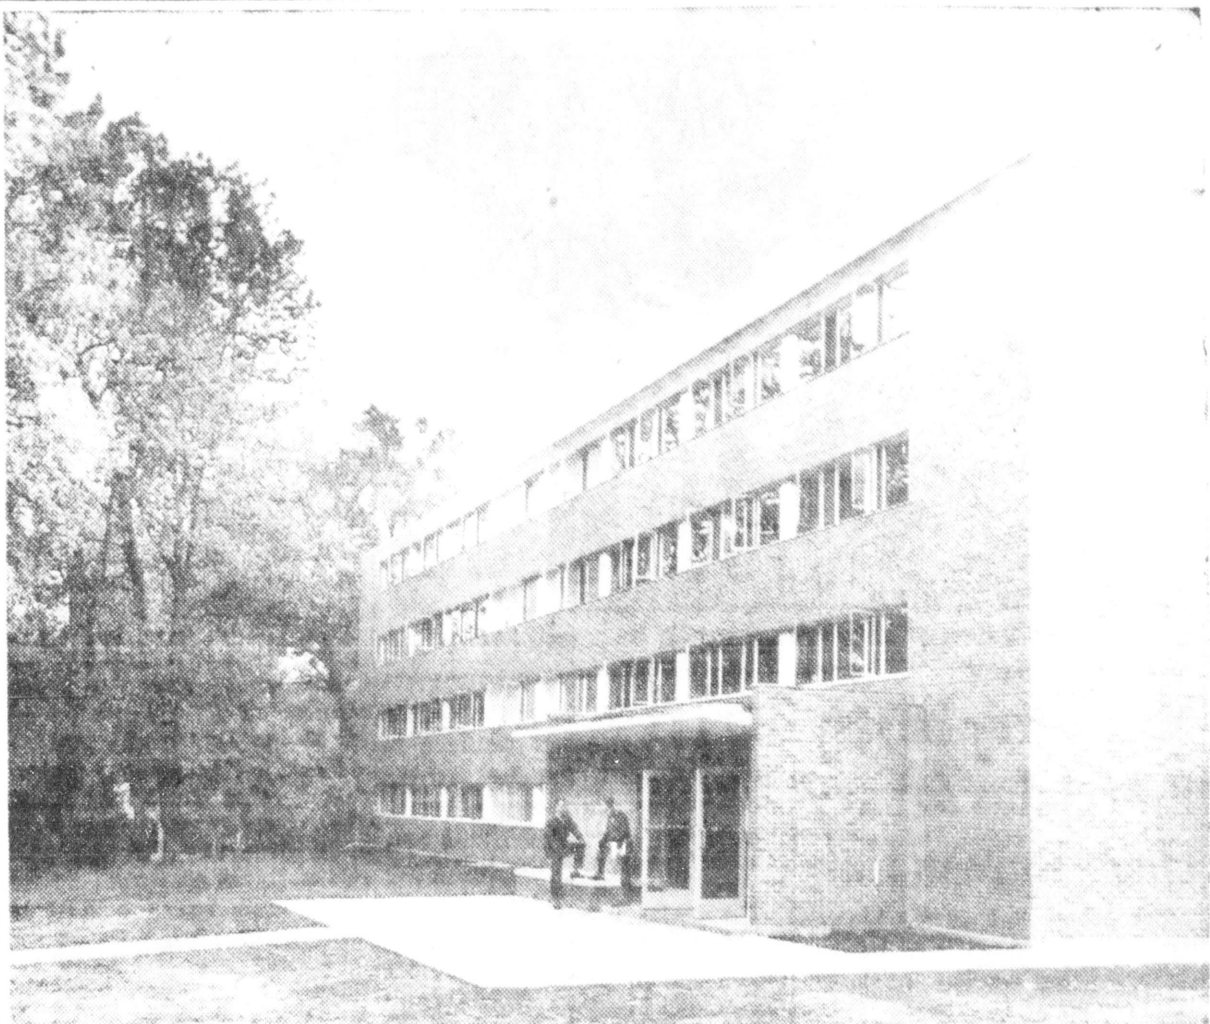

WHEREAS this College has been maintained through the years as a privately-supported college of liberal arts, and

WHEREAS alumni and friends of Illinois College are returning to the campus to observe the 125th Anniversary Homecoming,

BEFORE, THEREFORE, I, Ernest L. Howland, Mayor of the City of Jacksonville, do hereby proclaim and designate Saturday, October 16, 1954, as Illinois College Day, and hope by so doing to pay tribute to the College and recognize her achievements.

Dated this 1st day of October, A. D. 1954

Ernest L. Howland

The New Dormitory for Men, to be presented Saturday, is one of the objects of the Illinois College Forward Movement launched in 1942, which has included the renovation of Beecher Hall and the construction of the gymnasium unit of the Memorial Physical Education Building.

Under the leadership of Harold E. Gibson, national alumni president in 1951-52, alumni and other friends contributed funds to purchase gymnasium equipment and for a new dormitory. To supplement these gifts, the college arranged for a $200,000 loan from a revolving fund of the Housing and Home Finance Agency so that construction of the dormitory could begin.

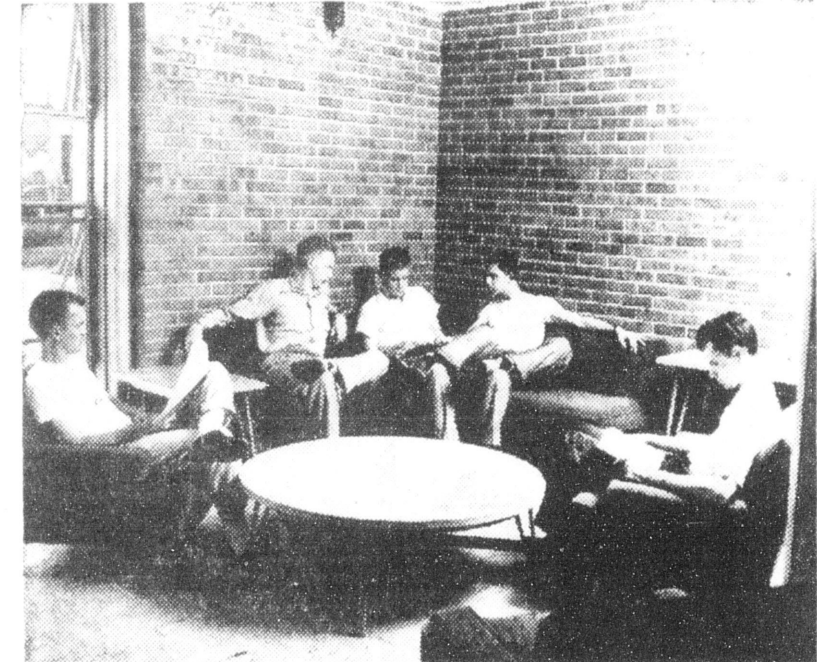

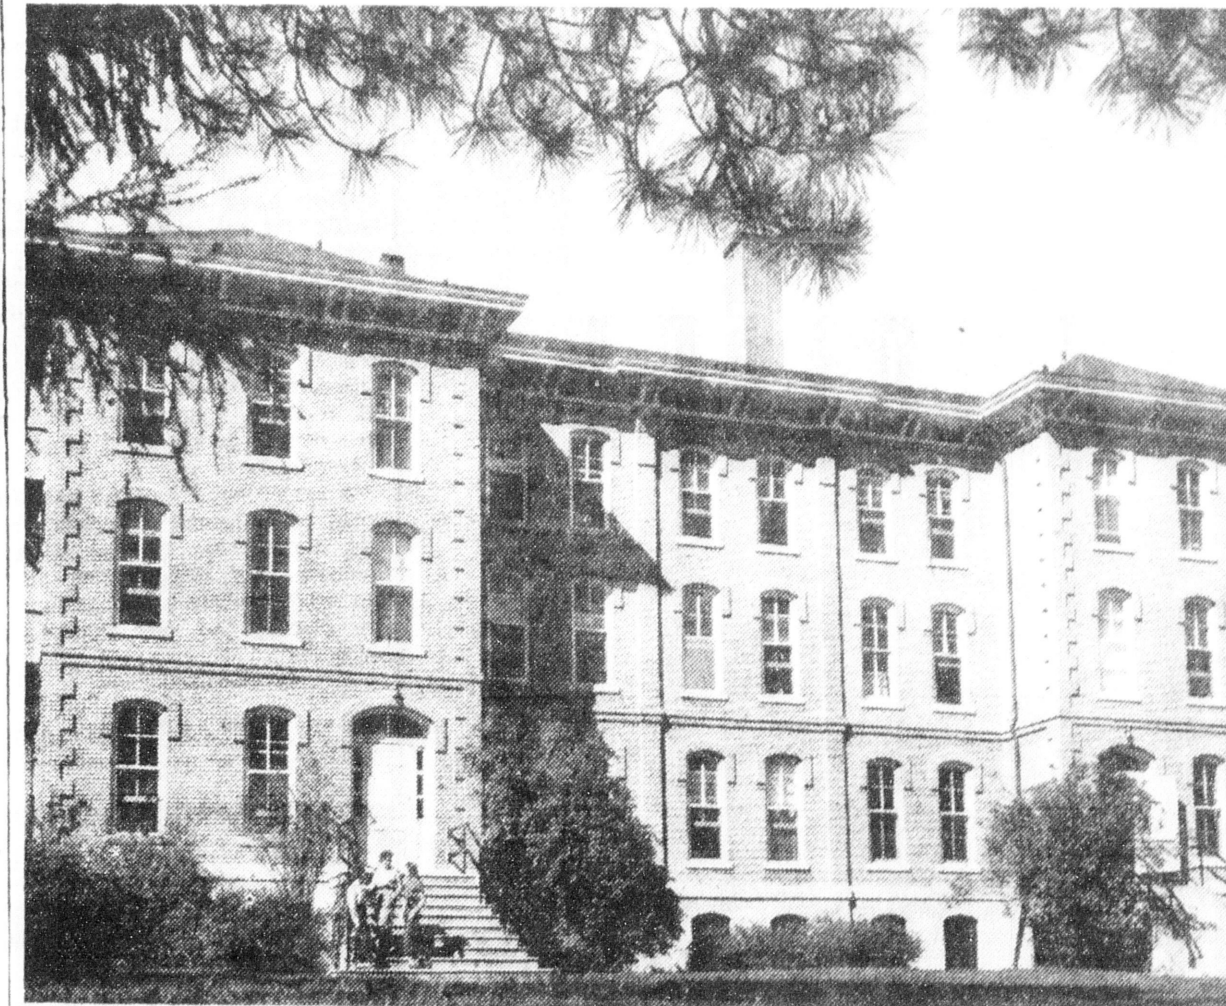

Interest and the principal on the loan are to be paid from dormitory rentals, but the entire amount can be paid off as rapidly as additional gifts for the dormitory are received.

Dr. Robert A. Hartman, Jacksonville, was general chairman of the 1951-52 Forward Movement program, and Carl E. Robinson, trustee, as chairman of the Morgan County phase.

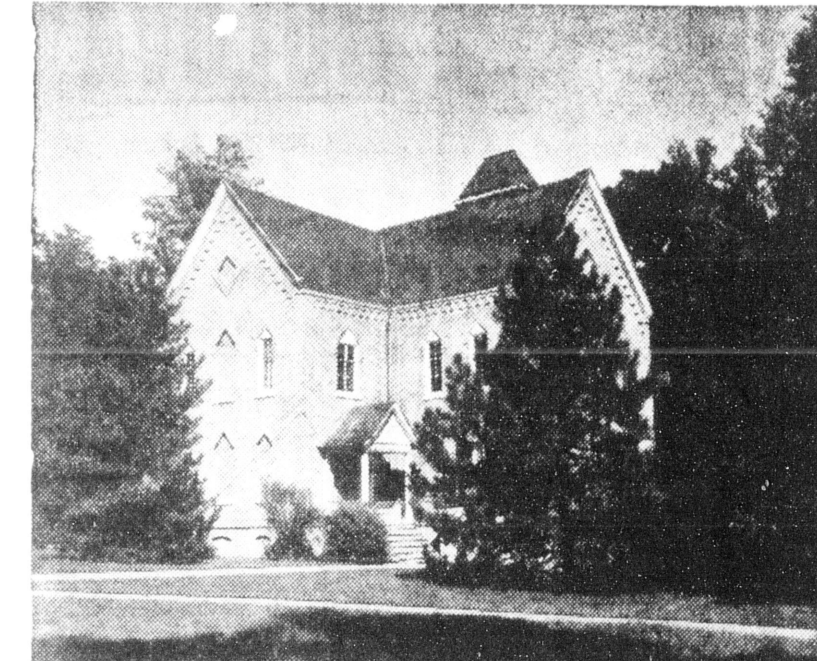

Excavation began in the fall of 1953, so that it would be ready for occupancy during the 125th anniversary celebration of the college.

The architect is the firm of Mittelbush and Tourtelot, Chicago. The firm has designed a number of college dormitories.

BELOW is Crampton Hall, showing the renovated exterior. The rooms inside have been repainted and have been completely refurbished. In addition, the south side of the first floor has been given over to an attractive lounge. Visitors are invited to inspect the renovations.

Shown above is the men's lounge in the new dormitory.

Whipple Hall, constructed in 1882, is named for Dr. Samuel L. Whipple of Jacksonville, who endowed an academy of the same name in 1869. With the development of the modern community high schools the Whipple Academy building, no longer needed as an academy, is used by the college.

The building now houses the physics and psychological laboratories and the mathematics classrooms. The walls were tuckpointed and made waterproof this summer, enhancing the building's appearance.

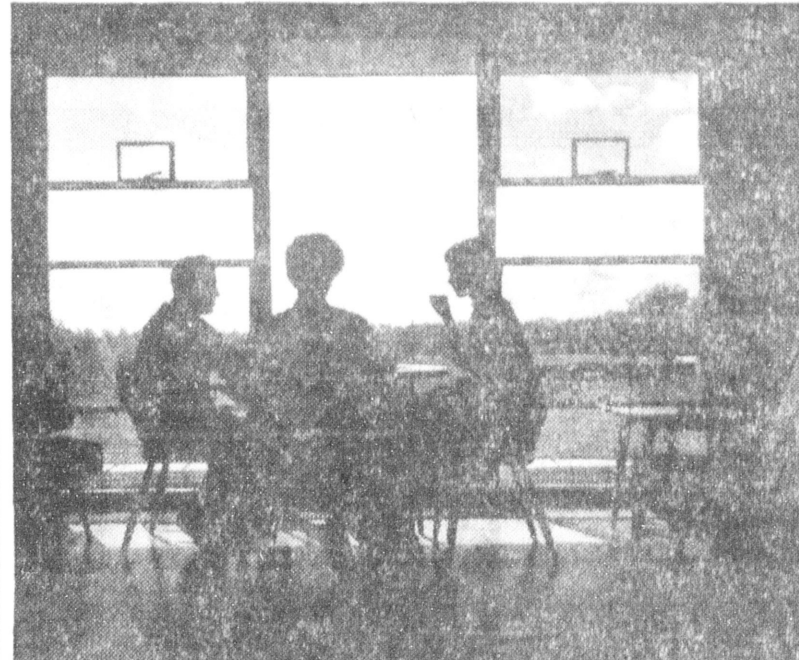

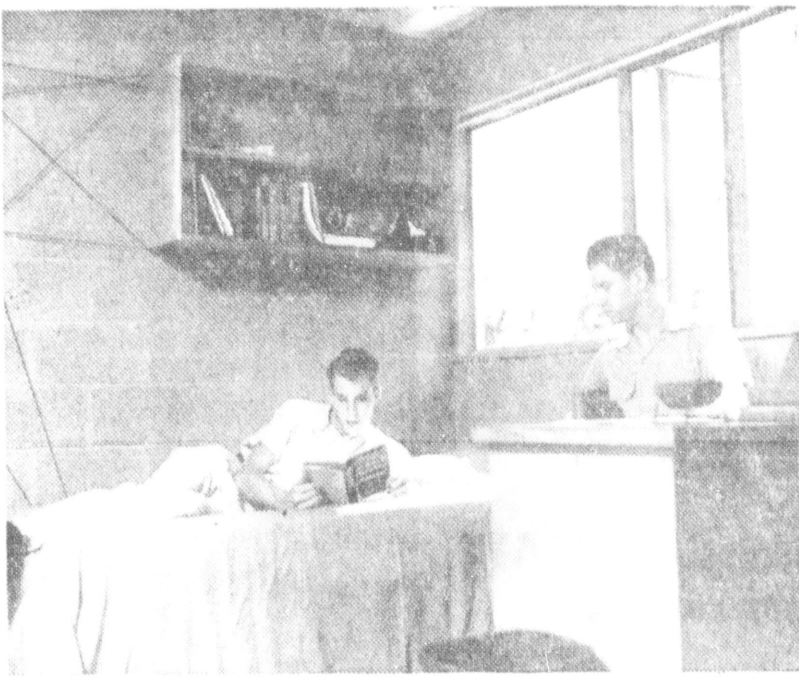

An opportunity is being prepared for alumni of Whipple Academy who did not attend Illinois College to provide funds for refurbishing the interior.

PARADE ROUTE

Saturday's Homecoming parade, scheduled to begin at 12:30 p.m., will form at the campus, proceed north on Webster Avenue to State Street, then east on State to the public square, around the square to Main Street, north on Main Street to Independence Avenue, and thence to the athletic field.

TO THE LEFT is shown the main entrance to the New Dormitory for Men at Illinois College. The dormitory will be officially presented at Saturday morning's ceremony. After the ceremony, the dormitory will be open for inspection.

Governor William G. Stratton, who is the guest speaker at the special 125th Anniversary Homecoming ceremony at 10 a.m. Saturday in the Memorial Physical Education Building.

Illinois College — and Jacksonville — welcome back alumni and friends to Homecoming Weekend for the college's 125th anniversary year.

Already the city is gaily decorated with blue and white bunting, put up on the street posts in the downtown area by the Chamber of Commerce through the cooperation of the retail merchants. The city has a festive air in anticipation of the weekend's events.

Governor Speaks Saturday Morning

Of special interest is the convocation at 10 a.m. Saturday in the Memorial Physical Education Building, at which Governor William G. Stratton will be the guest speaker. At that time a limited number of alumni who have distinguished themselves by service to the nation, state, or community, by their devotion to charitable or humanitarian causes, or by their loyalty to Illinois College, will receive distinguished service citations.

The new dormitory for men, constructed during the past year, will be officially presented at that time by Hugh Gibson, general contractor, and Edward Tourtelot of the Chicago architectural firm of Mittelbush and Tourtelot.

After Saturday morning's ceremony, the new dormitory, as well as Crampton Hall, will be open for inspection. Crampton Hall was renovated during the summer.

David A. Smith House Tea

Homecoming will get underway at 3:30 p.m. Friday with a tea at David A. Smith House on the southeast corner of Grove and Park streets. All friends are invited.

At 6:30 the men's and women's literary societies will have their traditional reunions at their respective meeting halls, while at 9:45 p.m. is the traditional bonfire, to be followed by refreshments for alumni, friends, and the students at Baxter Hall.

After Saturday morning's ceremony, luncheon will be served at a nominal charge for returning alumni and friends in Baxter Hall.

The annual Homecoming parade is scheduled for 12:30 p.m. Saturday, and the route is given elsewhere in this edition. The Illinois College Blueboys meet William Penn College at 2 p.m. at the city athletic field, and after the game all alumni and friends are invited to an informal reception at Barnes House on the campus, formerly known as the president's house. There alumni will have the opportunity to greet friends and members of the faculty. National Alumni President E. Dwight Smith and Mrs. Smith, Alumni Secretary Mrs. Doris S. Dillon, and President and Mrs. Selden will greet the returning alumni and friends.

The weekend will close with the annual Homecoming dance Saturday night in the Memorial Physical Education Building.

In charge of plans for the weekend are the 125th anniversary alumni committee headed by Attorney T. C. Rammekamp, and the student committee of which William Malottke, senior of Park Ridge, is chairman.

An Open Invitation for the 125th Anniversary Homecoming Celebration at Illinois College

On Saturday morning, October 16, at ten o'clock, Illinois College will hold a Homecoming celebration in the Memorial Physical Education Building. We cordially extend an invitation to all residents of Jacksonville and the surrounding communities to attend. On this occasion the Mayor of the City will bring greetings to the College and the Governor of the State will give an address.

For 125 years there has been a close friendship between the citizens of the community and this college. To its many friends the College expresses the hope that they may be present on this occasion, as well as at many of the other events planned for the week end.

Sincerely yours,
William K. Malottke
President

Mrs. Harry Massey Entertains Asbury Home Bureau Unit

The Asbury unit of the Morgan Scott Home Bureau held its October meeting on the fourteenth at the home of Mrs. Harry Massey on South Main street with Mrs. Chancey Carter and Mrs. Thomas Butler hostesses. There were 24 members to answer roll with a way to pass long winter evenings.

Mrs. C. J. Loneragan spoke to the group about taking advantage of the Gray Lady course being offered free of charge by the local Red Cross chapter with the first of two instruction classes being offered Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 19, from 1 to 4 in the afternoon in the Red Cross office on Morgan street above Hopper's shoe store. The second lesson will be given before Nov. 1 and completes the course. Several of the ladies decided to take the instruction. At the completion of the course they will order through the Red Cross the official Gray Lady's costume uniform in pearl gray with the red insignia which enables them to give volunteer service in any accredited hospital affiliated with the Red Cross in the United States.

The major lesson was presented by Mrs. Norman Carlson and Mrs. Cecil Patterson. "Cloth Makes the Difference in Washing and Ironing." They showed samples of the different materials with natural fiber in cotton, linen, wool, and silk. The man made fibers in rayon and acetates which are effected by atmospheric changes and other factors were also explained. Synthetic fibers, nylon, orlon, dacron, acrylate, etc., were revealed according to their reaction to heat, etc. They are often mixed or blended and labels should be heeded.

The selected subject, "Entertaining a Guest at the Family Table," was given by Mrs. Eugene Dods-worth.

The hostess served delicious refreshments in keeping with the Halloween season. The unit will meet in November at the home of Mrs. Cecil Patterson.

Case Cancels 3 Campaign Dates After News Story

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—Republican senatorial nominee Clifford P. Case, after a round of conferences with top GOP officials, Thursday night canceled his three campaign appearances for the evening without an explanation.

His talks with party officials and aides, on Wednesday night and Thursday, came in the wake of a newspaper story mentioning his sister, Miss Adelaide Case.

In its Thursday edition, the Newark-Star Ledger quoted Bella V. Dodd as saying she once knew an Adelaide Case in several groups which purportedly were Communist fronts. Miss Dodd was further quoted by the newspaper as saying the woman was not a Communist party member.

Case was not available for comment on the cancellations of his three speeches.

Miss Dodd, who has appeared as a government witness in various federal loyalty probes, is a former member of the National Committee of the Communist party.

After the newspaper story appeared, Miss Dodd told newsmen she did not know whether the Adelaide Case she referred to was related to the senatorial candidate.

And Case issued a brief statement which read in its entirety:

"I have seen the story in the Newark-Star-Ledger. This is gutter politics at its worst. My political enemies have shown they will stop at nothing in their effort to destroy me and my family. It will be answered fully."

The New York Herald Tribune quotes what it calls a report from a ranking Republican as saying, "There is a strong possibility this is a case of mistaken identity."

Case's sister, Adelaide, 42, is a physical education instructor at the exclusive Kingswood School at Cranbrook, Mich., near Detroit.

A school spokesman said she had left for New York. He told newsmen she joined the faculty this year. She holds a bachelor of arts degree from Bucknell, he said, and later did work at Smith College and at Teachers College of Columbia University. Miss Case could not be reached for comment.

Reciprocal Trade Would Aid Worker, Farmer: Douglas

CHICAGO (AP)—Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) said today that more liberal foreign trade policies would "not only help hard pressed workers and farmers of Illinois, but would also reduce the need for costly grants of direct U. S. economic aid to friendly foreign nations."

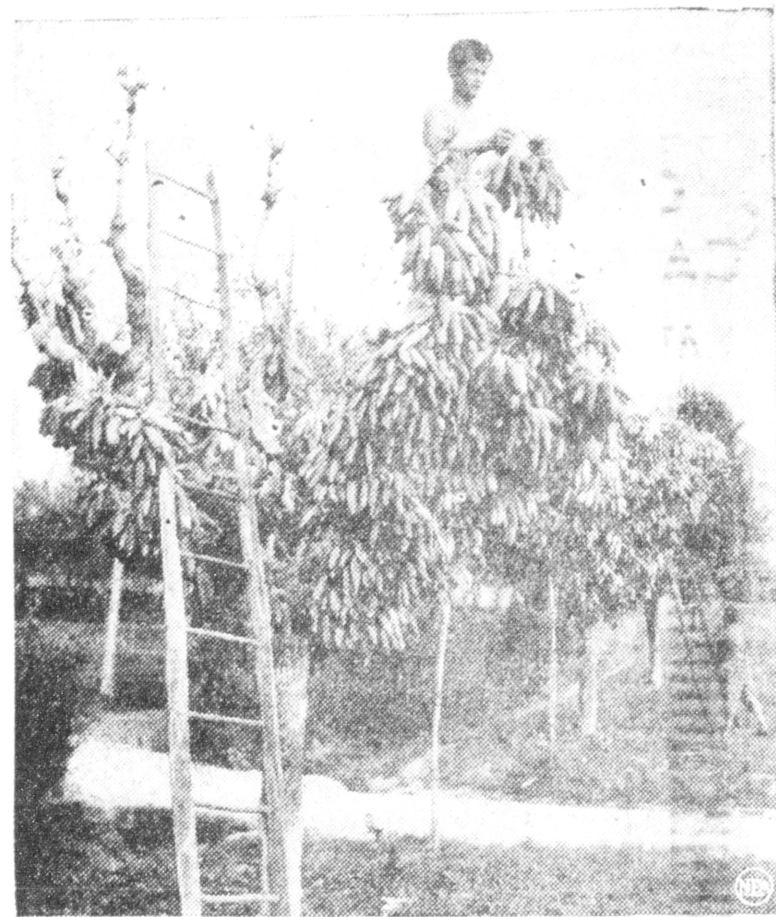

But, the Democratic legislator charged, "Old Guard Republicans who are in control of their party continue to think of America's foreign trade policies in terms of 19th century conditions. They are for high and arbitrary tariffs."

"They have consistently fought the flexible reciprocal trade agreements."

Douglas, in a campaign speech prepared for a meeting of the Illinois said that, "Despite the callous theories of Secretary of Defense Wilson, tens of thousands... are out of work through no fault of their own or of the plant owners."

He added: "A major remedy of the problem would be to secure a broader foreign market for the magnificent products this skilled labor force can produce. The same applies to the disposal of our farm surpluses."

CARROLLTON — Michael Carmody, 18 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Carmody, remained in Boyd Memorial hospital Monday night following an accident which occurred as the youth was enroute to his home at 10:30 p.m.

Carmody attempted to pass a truck near the Fred Kibach home during a rainstorm and his car ran off the highway. As he attempted to return to the highway he lost control of the car and it was struck by the truck which he had passed. Carmody received head injuries and was taken to the hospital for examination and treatment.

Thanksgiving Service Planned

The Rev. Elmer Sesterlund, pastor of the local Presbyterian church, will be the guest speaker at the annual union sunrise Thanksgiving service to be held Thanksgiving morning in the Methodist church, according to plans made Tuesday at the meeting of the local Ministerial Alliance held at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Walter B. Pruitt.

Due to the drought Greene county will not be able to participate to a great extent with grains in the annual Christian Rural Overseas program, and in recognition of this fact and in order that the county might have some participation in the program, special offering envelopes will be received at the Thanksgiving service and the offering sent to CROP.

The Alliance also reviewed the progress of the new nationwide "back to church" movement for the month of November known as the Religion in American Life program. Russell Wiles of the Baptist church is chairman for the united effort among the churches of the city.

Lightning Bolt
Breaks Windows
At Jerseyville

JERSEYVILLE—Allen Inman reported an unusual amount of damage by a lightning bolt which struck a large cottonwood tree in the vicinity of Locke and Fairground avenues during one of the thunderstorms here this week.

The bolt struck the tree which stands near the residence of Mrs. Charles Russell and shattered a number of windows. Five other homes in the immediate locality had similar experiences although so far as can be ascertained, the lightning did not strike the dwellings. Three houses belonging to Inman had the windows broken, the dwelling of George Russell and a residence property on Bertman Street as well as the Mrs. Charles Russell home all sustained damage from the terrific concussion created when the tree was struck.

Campanella Will Undergo Another Operation On Hand

BROOKLYN (AP)—Roy Campanella, veteran Brooklyn Dodgers catcher, will have to undergo another operation on his left hand.

The Brooklyn Dodgers made the announcement Friday after an unfavorable test at the New York Neurological Institute. The test showed Campanella had no nerve reaction in the fourth finger of his left hand.

Campanella, voted the most valuable player in the National League in 1951 and 1953, will undergo the new operation next Wednesday at the Queens Memorial Hospital.

Dr. Samuel Schenkman, who will do the surgery, said it would be an "exploratory operation" to try to discover the source of the catcher's trouble. Additional operations could be forthcoming.

The injury, suffered the first week of the season, plagued Campanella throughout the year and cut down his usefulness to the Dodgers. He hit only 207, playing spottily.

He underwent an operation May 4 for removal of a bone chip in his left hand and was forced out of action until May 31.

On July 9, he said two fingers of his left hand had become uncontrollably stiff and he might not be able to play baseball after the 1954 season.

Nevertheless, he played in the all-star game July 13. During the latter part of the season he went to several neurologists who said there would be no permanent injury. However, Campanella insisted he had little use of his glove hand.

Greenfield Tops Roodhouse 19-7

GREENFIELD (Special)—The host Greenfield eleven handed Roodhouse a 19-7 setback in Illinois Valley Conference action Friday night.

The winners scored in the initial period when Danny Pidiro raced 20 yards to score. The try for extra point was not good. The second TD for Greenfield came in the second period when Jim Williams plunged two yards to hit pay dirt. The extra point attempt was not good.

Roodhouse scored in the third period as Jim Houseman raced 14 yards and kicked the extra point.

The final TD of the game came in the 4th period when Donald Edwards fell on a fumble in the end zone to give the winners a 19-7 victory.

FT. BRAGG, N. C. (AP)—Wolfgang E. Goettig, a former member of the German Army, was captured by the Americans in World War II. Now a citizen of the United States and a resident of Trenton, N. J., he belongs to a National Guard outfit weeks of summer training here. He that recently completed his two is a member of the 78th Division—which captured him during the war.

Southern California and Oregon, two teams with Rose Bowl aspirations, meet Saturday night for college football's televised feature but they shared national attention with Army and Navy and four unbeaten giants of the Big Ten Conference.

Southern Cal. defeated by Texas Christian a week ago, and Oregon, rebounding winner over California after a shaky start collide at Portland, Ore. The game is to be beamed across the country by ABC, starting at 5:15 p.m. CST.

While this game and two others on the Pacific Coast lend an early but indefinite light to the possible Pasadena assignment Jan. 1, three important conference games in the Big Ten start deciding the other end of the Rose Bowl axis.

In these encounters, all involving top-ranked eleven, Purdue, the giant-killer which felled Notre Dame, plays at Wisconsin; Iowa, conqueror of Michigan State, is at Ohio State; and Illinois, the pre-season conference favorite which has failed to start rolling, invades Minnesota.

Wisconsin, Ohio State and Minnesota are unbeaten and untied while Purdue has only a tie marking its record, a 13-13 standoff a week ago with Duke. Illinois has dropped three in a row.

The Wisconsin-Purdue tilt at Madison, Wis., matches the nation's second and fifth ranked teams and brings together two of the campaign's early backfield sensations. Alan (The Horse) Ameche provides most of the power for the No. 2 Badgers while Lenny Dawson's deadly passing arm has been the main means of locomotion for Purdue.

Ohio State is No. 4 in the latest standings while Minnesota is No. 11. The game which before the season looked like the "natural" of the year—that between Notre Dame and Michigan State at South Bend—was dropped to secondary status when both teams suffered setbacks. Notre Dame bowed to Purdue, 27-14, two weeks ago while Michigan State lost to both Iowa and Wisconsin.

The two service teams, Army and Navy, whose meeting at Philadelphia brings the season to a colorful climax, both have rugged tests.

Army, resurgine after an opening loss to South Carolina, plays Duke, the sixth-ranked team in the nation, at Durham, N. C., and undefeated Navy, buoyed by a victory over Stanford, tackles Pittsburgh at Pitt Stadium.

Yankees Purchase Elston Howard, Three Others

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees, who have been accused of discrimination, moved Friday to put their first Negro player—towing catcher Elston Howard—into an active Yankee uniform.

General Manager George Weiss, announcing the start of a rebuilding program for 1955, included Howard in a list of four players whose contracts were bought from minor league farm clubs.

Howard's papers were purchased from Kansas City of the American Assn. along with those of Ed Cereghino and Tom Sturdivant, both right-handed pitchers.

In addition, a promising third baseman, Leon (Buddy) Carter, was brought up from Binghamton of the Eastern League.

To make room for these additions, the Yankees sold outfielder Art Schult and pitcher Al Cicotte to Kansas City.

But the big news was the calling up again of Howard, a six-foot-two athlete who won the most valuable player award while with Toronto in the International League last season.

Howard caught the eye of Manager Casey Stengel in spring training at St. Petersburg last March. Stengel suggested one more year of seasoning and Howard, although the property of Kansas City, was sent on option to Toronto where he had an outstanding record.

It was Stengel who shifted Howard from the outfield to a post behind the bat, and in the spring the Yankee manager commented: "Howard's already a major league hitter. He has one of the greatest arms I have ever seen and anybody who doesn't think he's fast as a catcher is crazy."

"In a year or two he can be as great as Yogi Berra or Roy Campanella."

Howard is a soft-spoken young man of 25, who grew up in St. Louis, spent two years in the Army and advanced through the Yankee farm system.

Routt Loses 59-27 Battle To Biggsville

The Routt Rockets found the going tough as they traveled to Biggsville Friday night for an intersectional battle with the northern school. The Rockets were downed by the host team by the score of 59-27.

The big gun for the winners was a halfback by the name of Kinslow who accounted for four of the winners' touchdowns and passed for a fifth score.

The Rockets got off to a bad start. They fumbled on their own 15 at the beginning of the game and Biggsville recovered. Kinslow went over from the 5 for the first score of the game. He also made the point after.

After an exchange of punts, Dickie Lewis blocked a host punt and the Rockets recovered. George Dee scored from the 14 and Casler kicked the extra point to make it a 7-7 tie.

Biggsville's second TD came on a 21 yard run by Kinslow before the quarter ended. The Rockets took the host kickoff and carried to the 15 on gains through the line. DeVore passed to Fredericks good for the score and Casler booted the point after to tie the count once more.

A blocked Routt punt and Kinslow's recovery in the end zone was good for another Biggsville TD. However the Rockets came back once more to go ahead when Dee went over from the one yard line after the Routt ground attack carried to that point from the mid-field stripe. Casler booted the point after and the visitors had a 21-20 lead.

However on the last play of the half, Kinslow threw a pass to Smith good for 45 yards and a TD to give the hosts a halftime lead of 26-21.

At the beginning of the second half, Smith tossed a pass to Stephen and the ball was downed on the one yard line. Smith then went over for another Biggsville score. After stopping the Rockets on the 25 yard line the winners scored again this time on a pass from Smith to Surber who raced all the way to score.

Routt came back to score before the quarter ended as Dee and Fredericks carried to the five before Dee went over. The attempted point after was not good.

In the fourth period Biggsville scored three times. Kinslow took a Routt punt and went all the way for one TD, came back to race 80 yards for another and the third and final score came on a pass from Smith to Edwards.

It was a very clean game with only three five yard penalties called.

Pitcher Who Beat Johnny Antonelli Resumes Career

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Bill Allen, 23, who as a schoolboy pitcher twice hurled no-hitters to defeat Johnny Antonelli, 1954 World Series star for the New York Giants, Friday came home from the U. S. Army ready to resume his baseball career.

He is scheduled to report to the Toledo club for spring training.

While Antonelli went to the Boston Braves as a reported $50,000 bonus player, Allen signed with the same club for no bonus at all. The Braves farmed Allen out to Hagerstown, Md., a Class B club for 1950-51. In 1952 he graduated to Milwaukee in the American Assn.

Ron Trier Scores Twice, Crimsons Whip Notre Dame

Although the rain and cold weather kept the crowd to a minimum it didn't dampen the enthusiasm of the 1950 homecoming fans who braved the weather to watch the Jacksonville Crimsons hand Notre Dame of Quincy a 12-0 setback.

Ron Trier and the rugged Crimsons line told the story of last night's victory. It was the fleet 175 pound halfback who raced 47 yards to score the first TD in the initial period and came back to smash 17 yards for the final TD in the second period. The Jacks' line was terrific throughout the evening. Near the end of the second period it was this forward wall of Roegae, Woodward, Prather, Marquard and Co. that stopped the Notre Dame attack four plays in a row to hold the Irish after a pass was ruled completed on the five yard line on pass interference.

The Notre Dame ground attack seemed to be hampered more than the Crimsons on the slow, muddy field. Although the Crimsons picked up three first downs in the first quarter their lone score and the only scoring threat of the period came on a 47 yard gallop by Trier near the end of the period. After the visitors punted, the Jacks took over on the ND 47 yard line. On the first play from scrimmage, Trier tried to go off guard but saw there was no hole so he took off around left end and raced into the end zone to bring the "teeth chattering" crowd to its feet. Woodward's attempted kick for extra point was not good but the Crimsons had a 6-0 lead at the end of the initial frame.

The second and final TD of the game was set up by the strong Jacksonville forward wall. Notre Dame went back to kick and in came Roegae and Woodward. Max blocked the kick and Woody fell on the ball to give the Crimsons the ball on the ND 17. Dyer piked up two before Trier raced through center to make the score read 12-0. The run for the point after was not good.

Notre Dame came back to put on a running attack of its own after taking the JHS kick. Waterotte and Boltz took turns carrying the pigskin and picked up three first downs in a row before the pass interference penalty placed the ball on the Jacks' five yard line. At this point the Crimson line played great ball and held the visitors. Halftime score 12-0.

During the halftime intermission the bands of both schools put on a fine show. The local band under the direction of Jim Welch shared the spotlight with the visitors.

The Notre Dame eleven started strong in the second half. Waterkotte took the kickoff and raced 20 yards to the ND 40. Boltz picked up 10 on the next play before quarterback Meekes fumbled and Hudson recovered to give the ball to Jacksonville on their own 44. However Dawson fumbled on the first play and the visitors had the ball once more.

The Crimson line threw Hank Berg's team for losses totaling 19 yards before Notre Dame punted and the Jacks took over. The ball changed hands a couple more times before the period ended.

Kent Dawson broke lose for a 60-yard TD run in the final period but a clipping penalty against the Crimsons called the play back and the game ended with the Jacks winning 12-0.

The Crimsons had 12 first downs while Notre Dame had 7.

Ray Robinson Begins Training For Comeback

NEW YORK (AP)—Ray Robinson, who retired as undefeated middleweight champion of the world 22 months ago, said Friday he would start training Monday with the idea of making a comeback.

"I have the urge to fight again, but I won't make any final decision until I see how I make out in training," said Robinson, who says he is 32 although the record book says he's 34.

"I feel good. I don't think I ever felt better. I would like to become the first retired champion ever to regain a title, and I hope to get a shot at middleweight champion Bobo Olson if my training works out well."

He said "I have no need to fight, but you know everyone likes a fight."

Robinson's last fight was June 25, 1952, in the heat at Yankee Stadium, when he was unable to come out for the 14th round against Joey Maxim, in a battle for Maxim's world light heavyweight title. Robinson, led in rounds, won at the time.

Since then he has been campaigning as a song and dance man in night clubs and has made several tours of the United States and Europe.

Olson, the current middleweight champion, succeeded Robinson when he whipped England's Ranald Turpin, the European king, in a 15-rounder in New York, Oct. 21, 1953. Prior to that fight, Olson had won the American title by drubbing Paddy Young and Turpin had annexed European laurels by beating Frances Charley Humez.

Pleasant Hill Pittsfield Battle To 13-13 Tie

PLEASANT HILL (Special)—Pleasant Hill and Pittsfield battled to a 13-13 deadlock in a surprise Illinois Valley battle Friday night.

The first touchdown of the game came in the second period. Wolves quarterback Edwards went over on a quarterback sneak and also scored the extra point to put Pleasant Hill ahead 7-0.

Pittsfield came back to score in the third period. Junior Smith went over for the Sautkee TD.

Frazier scored for the visitors in the fourth quarter and also went over for the point after.

The Wolves came back to tie the score in this final period when Harold Miller caught a 30-yard pass from Edwards and raced 63 yards to score.

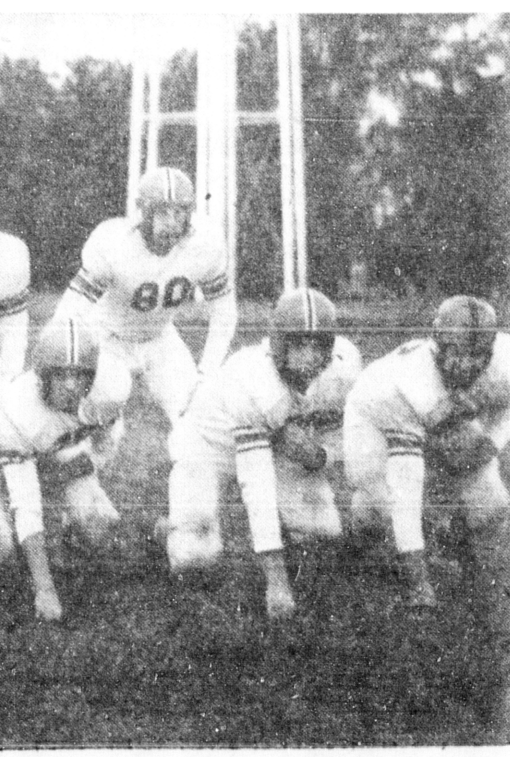

Pleasant Hill threatened twice in the third quarter but couldn't push the pigskin across. They were on the one yard line on two different occasions.

TIGERS SET FOR MISSOURI

Illinois School for the Deaf Tigers play host to Missouri Deaf at the local field this afternoon in the annual homecoming tilt for the deaf eleven.

Coach Jim Spink's starting lineup is shown above as the boys went through signal drills yesterday afternoon in preparation for today's battle.

Blueboys, W. Penn Tangle At 2:00; ISD Hosts Missouri Deaf

The Illinois College Blueboys entertain William Penn at 2:00 this afternoon on the J. H. S. Athletic Field on the 125 Anniversary Homecoming for the local college.

It will be the third game of the season for the Hilltoppers. Coach Al Miller's eleven defeated Eureka 2-0 in the opener on the local field and were defeated by Principia 12-0 on the Elsh field last Saturday.

Since William Penn is an out of state school not too much is known about the team from Oskaloosa, Iowa. Last season the Blueboys defeated this same school 20-0 in the season's opener.

Coach Miller plans to go with the same lineup he has used throughout the season. Every player is physically able to perform but this game may be decided by the "bench."

In the starting fold will be Jim Rudinas and Jim Frame at the flanker positions. Frame still has a cast on his left hand. At tackle will be Bill Horsley and Charles McKinzie. Fred Goodey and Don Hazelrigg will hold down the guard spots while Gary Curtis takes care of center.

The backfield will find Bob Winstead at quarterback, Ken Vierck and Bob Scott at the halfback spots and Dick Capatosto at full. Other players who will see plenty of action are Dick Barnes, Don Robinson, Bill Furman, Bill Farmer and Bob Spanebauer.

I. S. D. Hosts Missouri

In the other part of town on the Illinois School for the deaf Athletic field, Coach Jim Spink's Tigers play host to Missouri Deaf in the homecoming battle for the local school.

The Tigers own a 3-1 record for the 1954 season. The only loss on the I. S. D. record was a 18-13 setback by Mt. Sterling. The Tigers have defeated Petersburg, Oklahoma and Staunton.

Sparking the Tiger offense will be senior Jack Rampley. The hard running fullback has compiled a fabulous record of 11.0 yards per try rushing while scoring 60 points in four games. What makes the mark even more outstanding is he played in only half of three of the Tiger's games.

Coach Spink will stick with the same lineup he used in the 40-0 rout of Staunton last Saturday. Zachariasen and Embree will be at ends, Shultz and Thrash at tackles, Phelps and Berletich at guards and Kutileh at center. Besides Rampley, the backfield will find Duncan at quarterback, Kane and Klecot at halfbacks.

Game time on the local field is 2:30.

Intensified Fishing

Due to density of population and the importance of marine products in the Japanese diet, coastal fishing off Japan is the most intensified in the world.

Rejected, to be ridden by imported Eric Gruen, will carry 125 pounds and probably go off an 8-5 choice.

His chief challenge is expected from Harry N. Eads' Sir Manzo, in with 122 pounds. Other top contenders include Reverie Knoll Farm's Smoke Screen, and the Walmac Farm entry of Hasseyamps and Vagabond King.

Precious Stone, Mister Black and Red Charger round out the field which will be confronted by an "off" track after Chicago's recent heavy rains.

Philadelphia Group Makes Bid For A's

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A band of "last-minute" men plunked their check books on the line Friday and joined a cross-country tug-of-war with Chicago's Arnold Johnson for the suddenly much sought after Philadelphia Athletics' franchise.

Through a spokesman, 10 prominent Philadelphia businessmen announced they had pledged sufficient cash to keep the Athletics in Philadelphia but said the details of their offer would have to be worked out over the coming weekend.

That time element would take matters right down to the 10 a.m. CST, deadline set by Will Harbridge, American League president, for a final stand by Roy Mack, the A's executive vice president and key figure in the situation.

In Chicago, Johnson—the baseball-minded financier who thought he practically bought the ball club at an American League meeting last Tuesday—said he still has hopes of purchasing the franchise he wants to transfer to Kansas City.

Johnson said at this point he was a little bewildered but thought it was time he issued "a statement of position." In that statement, Johnson said he was prepared to give Roy Mack a five-year contract and a stock interest in the A's organization at Kansas City.

Johnson also said he had promised to give Roy's son, Connie Mack 3d, a job with the club.

Jack Rensel, the Philadelphia syndicate's spokesman, said the 10 members had matched the $3,375,000 offer made by Johnson for the A's franchise.

While Rensel refused to disclose the names of those in the group, reporters on the scene were able to identify the following as they emerged from Friday's meeting: Paul Harron, president of Radio Station WIBG; Barney Fischer, oil and automobile industrialist of Lower Merion Township, Pa.; Gallagher, Philadelphia trucking firm executive; William Anderson, heating and plumbing contractor; Arthur Rosenberg, food chain executive; Joseph Leibman, clothier; Leonard Strick, truck-trailer manufacturer; and Isadore Siey, parking lot company operator.

Rensel issued the following statement after the breakup of the meeting:

"A group of Philadelphia businessmen is negotiating with Mr. Roy Mack and the Mack family and negotiations are still active and no definite decision will be made until after the weekend at which time it is hoped a meeting of the minds will be reached."

"Mr. Roy Mack's daughter is being married tomorrow and if a decision is reached before then, we shall notify the press."

"Needless to say, all of the people involved are responsible citizens of Philadelphia and are vitally interested in keeping the Athletics in Philadelphia. I am not at liberty in revealing the nature of the parties involved."

It was learned from a reliable source that one of the big hitches in the situation was Roy Mack's insistence that he be given a five-year contract as an executive of one sort of another in the A's front office before he will agree to sell his stock.

New York Bond Market

NEW YORK (AP)—U. S. governments were slightly lower Friday in an irregular bond market.

The treasury's 30-year 3 1/2% dipped 2-32 at 101 26-32 bid and the 2 1/2% of 1961 at 101 20-32 bid were off 1-32. Over the counter dealings were slow and selective.

"Big Board" volume declined to $3,160,000 par value from $3,350,000 Thursday but activity was erratic. Railroads started downward but improved as the session progressed. Industrials began steady but weakened during the afternoon. Most utilities remained firm.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

CHICAGO (AP)—Butchers and hogs declined 25 to 50 cents Friday as producers unloaded 9,000 salable head against an expected 5,000.

Top price was $18.75, paid for about 200 head. This was the same as Tuesday's top, which was the lowest since January, 1953. Most choice 180 to 270 pound butchers were taken at $18.50 to $18.65. Sows sold from $15.00 to $17.75.

Steers and heifers were quoted nominally steady in the usual week end clean up trade. A few good to low choice steers and yearlings moved at $20.50 to $24.00 and a few good heifers at $21.50. Salable receipts totaled 800.

Cows sold steady to 25 cents lower at $9.75 to $12.00 for utility and commercial and $7.00 to $10.00 for canners and cutters. Vealers were steady at $18.00 to $23.00 for good and choice.

Salable sheep receipts totaled 700. All classes held steady with good and choice wooled lambs $18.50 to $20.00 and choice and prime $20.50 to $21.00.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

GRAINS CLOSE FIRM ON SLOW MARKET

By WILLIAM FERRIS

CHICAGO (AP)—Grains closed firm on the Board of Trade Friday after a session of narrow price swings. Dealings were slow throughout practically the entire session.

Soybeans did better than the rest of the market, aided by sale of 315,000 bushels of cash soybeans to France for shipment from Atlantic Coast ports by Nov. 20.

Wheat lagged most of the day but came ahead just before the close on covering operations by previous short sellers. Apparently they did not wish to maintain their short position over the week end.

Wheat closed 1/2 lower to 1 cent higher, corn 1/4-1/2 higher, oats 1/2 lower to 3/4 higher, rye 1 1/2-2 1/2 higher, soybeans 1 3/4-3 1/2 higher and hard 10 to 60 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Lack of exports continued to plague wheat, as did mild hedging pressure. The bread cereal was not able to respond to firming prices for red wheat and soft white wheat in the territory east of Chicago.

Corn again was quite firm. Receipts totaled only 62 cars. With the government having discontinued its program of selling high moisture 1953 crop corn, some grain men were expecting receipts to remain relatively low until the 1954 crop starts to move in volume.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market slipped a little Friday, but unusual strength was displayed by the railroads.

Carrier shares persisted in their higher prices throughout the session which was marked at times by selling pressure.

Ahead also were the aircrafts, airlines, and many individual issues scattered throughout the list. Changes in either direction usually were bounded by 2 points.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks lost only 10 cents at $134.60. It was off $1.40 Thursday.

The industrial component of the average declined 60 cents and the utilities were off 40 cents, but the railroads strode ahead $1.00.

The list was composed of 1,197 individual issues, 26 less than Thursday with 420 gainers and 498 losers in the list.

Volume came to 2,250,000 shares. That compares with 2,540,000 shares traded Thursday.

History's Most Erratic Storm Is Losing Fury

wind gusts of 98 miles per hour, an intensity never before matched in the nation's capital. Windows were smashed, precious old trees ripped from the Capitol grounds.

In Annapolis, Md., 90 mile winds drove the Naval Academy's historic old training ship, Rina Mercedes, loose from her moorings in the Severn River. The ship was without anchors and the more than 100 men aboard fought to stabilize her with sea anchors. They were stranded aboard for the storm's duration.

The Navy's yacht, the Vamaria, also tore loose from its moorings near the training ship and sank. Large sections of the Academy's piers were blown away. At Newport News, Va., the battleship Kentucky, not yet completed, was torn loose and flung around.

In New York, all outdoor activity—football games, harness racing and the like—was canceled. The fire department sounded its "six sixes"—a bell signal placing every fireman in the city on 24-hour disaster alert.

The eight million residents of the city were urged to stay off the streets.

President Makes Bid For Farmers' Vote

The President made also what appeared to be an oblique reference to Democratic efforts to make a campaign issue of the administration's attitude toward the unemployed — something given a fillip this week by exchanges over Defense Secretary Wilson's remarks about hunting dogs and kennel dogs.

In one passage of his address, Eisenhower said economic dislocations and individual hardships in some communities were inevitable aftermath of war and inflation although he said this is the most prosperous peacetime year in American history. He added:

"My heart truly goes out to everyone of our citizens who wants to work and has no job, or who in their ways, suffers these hardships. Efforts to eliminate distress and to build enduring economic strength in these localities are being tirelessly pursued."

Eisenhower declared the economic position of the farmers had gone down steadily in the last years of Democratic President Truman's administration.

Knowing that Argyle had been persistent there was no gift.

JIM turned that thought over in his mind as he drove through the winding curves of the road. He reached level ground, drove more slowly along the curves which twisted toward the fork in the road. The apparent evenness of the plateau's surface was deceptive. Jim knew a small army could have been hidden in imperceptible folds and gulches. He stopped, got out at the fork. He called, and his voice was tiny in the empty space. Yet there was a path of small footprints leading down toward The Spire. Only Nancy had small enough feet to make those marks in the dust.

He gave in to it, drove as fast as he dared. He zoomed past the fork in the road, rushed across the last of the level ground and skidded into the first turn of the road down to the Carlson Castle. He slammed on the brakes, used both acceleration and the steady, driving power of competition to negotiate the hairpin turns.

His tires slid and left marks as he slammed on the brakes at last in the Carlson driveway. Puma Lake rippled in the faint wind which preceded the daily thunderstorm. Philip and Mrs. Hilton sat on one corner of the glassed-in patio, sipping from tall glasses. Agnes Argyle walked out to greet him.

Jim relaxed. Nothing was wrong. Nothing could be wrong. He started framing a question for Agnes.

But the woman was looking past him, looking for something, looking for someone.

"Where's your wife?" Sheriff Agnes asked.

"Nancy? What do you mean? Isn't she here?"

"No. Don't see how you missed her though. She started off about an hour ago. Said she was going to take a walk and meet you on your way back."

Agnes could have given the daughter a doll without Toby's.

Two fat tears rolled down Toby's face. "We never gave her anything. Except away. That's it. We didn't have her long enough, and we didn't have anything away. No, all we gave Angelica was away."

Agnes could have given the daughter a doll without Toby's.

Walker Claims Self Defense In Murder Case

WINCHESTER — The testimony in the trial of John Wesley Walker, who is charged with the murder of Edward VanHynning, was concluded about 3:30 Friday afternoon. Court recessed until 9 o'clock Saturday morning when argument of counsel will be heard and the jury will receive instruction from the court.

Mrs. Lillian Walker, wife of the defendant, was recalled as a witness for the state at 9 o'clock Friday morning. She identified the 12 gauge shotgun which was admitted in evidence as the murder weapon as her husband's gun, when questioned by State's Attorney Richard E. Mann. On cross examination by the attorney for the defendant, A. W. Schimmel, Mrs. Walker stated that Edward VanHynning and his wife and she had been drinking during that evening but did not know whether or not her husband had done any drinking. She testified that her husband had been sleeping on a cot and that he got up and went into the house, and soon after he came out, she heard the shotgun fired. She said it was dark and she did not see who fired the gun. She stated that her husband and VanHynning appeared to be friendly prior to the shooting.

John Meier was the next witness to testify and he stated that he was asleep in the Walker home and saw the defendant come into the house and leave the house carrying something, but he didn't know what it was. He testified that he heard a report, which could have been the discharge of a shotgun. He stated that after the report the defendant came back into the house and told him that he had better get going while he was still in the chair.

C. E. Battelfeld, Village Marshal for Bluffs, testified that he was called to the scene of the shooting and that he observed VanHynning lying on the ground east of the Walker home. He testified that the defendant admitted shooting VanHynning at that time.

Lyle Bates, Bluffs undertaker described the wound in the head of the slain man, and the position in which he found the body upon his arrival at the Walker home.

Much of the session Friday was spent in connection with arguments of counsel relative to the admission of a statement made by the defendant at the county jail in which he answered questions of the state's attorney and the sheriff on the day following the shooting. Sheriff Lettice, Coroner Kenneth Cunningham, Jail Keeper Harold King, and Miss Barbara Kaehliert, who was the shorthand reporter in taking the statement, testified concerning the manner in which the statement was taken. The statement was finally admitted into evidence by the judge and was read to the jury by the state's attorney. In this statement the defendant said he shot VanHynning because of threats which VanHynning had made toward him.

The state rested its case about 3 o'clock. The defendant was the only witness called by the defense. The defendant admitted the shooting and said he shot VanHynning because he had threatened to whip him. He testified that he had asked VanHynning to go home but he had refused to leave and then VanHynning threatened him. Walker said he went into the house to get his gun to make him leave and that he shot him in self defense.

On cross examination the defendant refuted his signed statement made to the state's attorney the day following the shooting and stated that he did not understand the questions asked him and that some of the answers credited to him in the statement were not true.

The court room was almost full of spectators throughout the trial on Friday.

GOVERNOR RELEASES FUNDS FOR AIRPORT IMPROVEMENT

Governor William G. Stratton, seated at his desk in the state capital, is shown signing an order for a release of $60,000 for an important improvement at the Jacksonville Municipal Airport. Standing around his desk are six residents of Jacksonville, all interested in development of the Airport and air service for this section of Illinois. They are (L to R) Edward H. Alexander, secretary of the Illinois Senate; Marvin Schuetz, Airport commissioner; Jack Grels, Airport manager; Attorney William L. Fay, secretary of the Jacksonville Airport Authority; County Judge Paul Fenstermaker; and William H. Kurtz, chairman of the Airport Authority. The $60,000 to be released by the Department of Finance will be used for blacktopping the north-west-southeast runway, giving the Municipal Airport an all-weather runway which is needed since the inauguration of scheduled passenger service to Peoria and Chicago several weeks ago.

Liam Sullivan To Appear Sunday On TV Program

Liam (William) Sullivan, former Jacksonville young man who has established himself prominently on stage and in television, will appear at four o'clock Sunday afternoon, October 17, on the Hallmark Playhouse Hall of Fame. The program can be seen on either St. Louis Channel 5 or Quincy Channel 10, both having good reception in this immediate area.

"Yankee Roadblock" is the title of the drama to be portrayed Sunday with Sullivan taking the part of Major Andre, the British officer who accepted the stolen plans from Benedict Arnold in his attempt to betray the United States.

During the past summer Liam has been cast in many stock company plays throughout the East. He played opposite Pat Benoit, known on the television screen as Mrs. Peppers, in the play "Gigi." Also he played Alfred in the stage presentation of "My Three Angels" and the part of the younger son in "Sabrina Fair." At the present he is in Hollywood. Liam is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee A. Sullivan, 346 West Beecher avenue.

CHEERFUL ADVICE

IOWA CITY, Iowa — Because broken bones occur so frequently in auto accidents, Dr. Robert S. McClintock, an orthopedic surgeon at the State University of Iowa hospital, gives this advice:

Every motorist should carry something in his car—such as a 2-inch by 3-foot piece of plywood—which could be used as a splint.

President Eisenhower Greets Illinois College

President Eisenhower has sent greetings to Illinois College on the occasion of the 125th anniversary celebration of its founding.

The President's letter is reproduced below.

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

Denver, Colorado
September 28, 1954

Dear Mr. Selden:

I am very happy to send my warm greetings to all celebrating the one hundred twenty-fifth anniversary of Illinois College.

In the history of your college are the names of many famous Americans, men renowned for their intellect, their independent moral courage, their sense of responsibility as citizens. As you observe this anniversary with pride in your heritage, you have my sincere hope that you will remember the high ideals which these men stood for, and thus acquire new inspiration and new guidance for the years to come.

Sincerely

Dwight D. Eisenhower

Mr. William K. Selden,
President
Illinois College

Car Stolen In 1949 Recovered In Jacksonville

A 1948 Pontiac coupe which was stolen in Chicago back in 1949 was recovered in the Jacksonville police department garage Friday, awaiting its delivery to an insurance company. The car was located in this city Thursday in possession of a citizen who holds legal title.

Recovery of the car, police said, brought to an end a chain of sales and resales, in which the State of Illinois has issued four certificates of title.

Jack Burke, Kirksville, Mo., an agent for the National Automobile Theft Bureau, traced the automobile to this city and conferred with police. The car was then taken to the police garage.

The Theft Bureau agent said it has been owned in Belmont and Decatur, and was then sold to a local dealer.

VISITS PARENTS ON 15TH ANNIVERSARY

Bloodmobile To Have Social And Civic Group Help

Representatives from civic and social organizations in Jacksonville gathered Thursday night at the Red Cross chapter office on East Morgan street. The men and women listened intently as Clarendon Smith, Red Cross Blood Program chairman, explained the pressing need for meeting the quota of 175 units of blood each day when the Bloodmobile visits Jacksonville, Thursday and Friday, Oct. 28 and 29.

The county, fortunate to remain on the Blood Program, benefiting every resident in Morgan county, is in danger of losing this position. For the past number of visits there have not been enough donors to meet the required quotas.

In an effort to reach those who have never visited the Bloodmobile, a pre-visit campaign is being conducted. The meeting Thursday enabled representatives to hear Mr. Smith explain the advantage of keeping the county's approved standing and of the expense that may be encountered should anyone from Morgan county need blood at a hospital should we lose our Blood Program standing.

A large scale campaign is also in progress among stores and business firms in Jacksonville, with Mrs. W. J. Casler, contact chairman, in charge. Public relations chairman are named in firms having over a certain number of employees with the object of explaining the simple procedure involved in giving blood. Questions and other information can be obtained from the firm chairman who will be named because of having previously given blood at the Bloodmobile and thereby are fully qualified to represent the procedure.

Those attending Thursday night and the associations they represented were: Mary Cosgriff, Alpha Phi chapter of Beta Sigma Phi; Dorothy Brennan, American Legion Auxiliary, unit 279; David Shadid, IOOF; Paul Hogan, Lions club; Charles P. Runkel, Harmony Lodge 3; Ruth O. Ross, American Association of University Women; Lottie Slagle, American Legion post 279; Martha Lorton, Alpha Iota, alumnae chapter; Marge Choate, and Marjorie Robson, both representing Zeta Beta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority; Hollie Proffitt, Senior Regent from the Women of the Moose; Ernest Proffitt, representing Moose Lodge 865; Mrs. C. W. Schewe, Delta Theta Tau sorority; Bernita Dodson, Chi Lambda chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority, and Glenn Spencer, Exchange club.

Also Mr. Smith, chairman of the program; Mrs. Wilbur Kurtz, staff aide's assistant and Mrs. W. J. Casler, publicity chairman for the Blood Program. Harold McCarty, president of the Morgan County Red Cross chapter, was also present.

Lasker Medical Award Made To Dr. Rammelkamp

Announcement has been made of those chosen for the Albert Lasker award for 1954 for outstanding contributions to medical research and discovery. Among those chosen was a group award to the Streptococcal Disease Laboratory at Ft. Francis E. Warren Air Base, Cheyenne, Wyo., of which Dr. Charles H. Rammelkamp, Jr., of Cleveland, Ohio, has been the director since its establishment in 1949.

Dr. Rammelkamp is a son of Mrs. C. H. Rammelkamp of this city. Since the founding of the award eight years ago, it has come to be regarded as among the nation's primary medical honors.

Backed by the medical commissions of all three military services, a five year study has been made to find the particular type of streptococcus germ responsible for the crippling and deadly rheumatic fever, and also for a serious form of kidney disease chiefly affecting children.

The results demonstrated the necessary preventive measures and from this disease can be cut down by 60 per cent in this country.

In citing Dr. Rammelkamp's group for the award the committee said of the director:

"Dr. Rammelkamp's deep originality, brilliant leadership of a group of young medical corps officers and civilian physicians, and his keen awareness of the advantages afforded by military populations in the study of epidemiology analysis have been largely responsible for success."

Dr. Rammelkamp is the eldest son of the late Dr. Charles H. Rammelkamp, a former president of Illinois College. He is a graduate of the college and the University of Chicago medical school. Dr. Rammelkamp is now associate professor of Preventive Medicine at Western Reserve School in Cleveland, Ohio. He has many relatives and friends in Jacksonville.
